

SRM University, IAMPV organise int'l conference on novel drug discovery

In order to address the outbreak of swine flu (H1N1) and other diseases such as TB, malaria, kala azar, dengue, chikungunya and Japanese encephalitis; a host of international experts from Australia, China, Italy, Japan, Singapore, Switzerland, UAE, the U.K. and the U.S.; as well as members of scientific community from India from CSIR, DBT, DRDO, DST, ICAR, ICMR, UGC and DoHR converged in New Delhi at the International Conference on 'Antimicrobial Resistance, Novel Drug Discovery and Development: Challenges and Opportunities'.

The event was jointly organised by SRM University, Haryana and International Association of Medical and Pharmaceutical Virologists (IAMPV).