

SRM UNIVERSITY DELHI-NCR,SONEPAT

SRM University Haryana, part of the SRM Group, was established in 2013 in Sonapat, Haryana. Offering diverse undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programs, the university focuses on engineering, management, science, humanities, and law. The university actively collaborates with industries and international institutions to enhance practical exposure and industry relevance for students. The campus provides modern infrastructure, including classrooms, laboratories, and libraries. The university's placement cell aids in career guidance and job opportunities, fostering a holistic learning environment.

The Department of Environmental Science was established with a focus to facilitates contemporary research on global issues of environment and human well-being. The department offers 2-year M.Sc. Course in Environment Sciences and Ph.D. program with a focus on various specializations. The Department provides active hands-on training including Physico-chemical analyses of soil, water samples, analysis of air quality and satellite data. It also ensures the quality delivery in the classroom teaching through the highly talented and motivated faculty members, fostering critical thinking and problem-solving skills among students.

The Department of Agriculture Science offers BSc (Hons.) in Agriculture Science, a 4-years-long undergraduate course that aims to use modern concepts to train students to improve agriculture productivity, manage products and pave the way for future developments. The courseware will be delivered through a series of lectures, seminars, and practical classes at the farms and laboratories. Our exceptional industry contacts and external visits to livestock and crop enterprises and agribusinesses will provide valuable additional case studies.

The Department of Environment Sciences and Department of Agriculture Science, SRM University Delhi-NCR, Sonapat, jointly organizing a one-week Faculty Development Program (FDP) focused on “Climate change & its impact on Agriculture”.

This programme aims to explore the critical intersection of climate change, environmental health, and agricultural sustainability. Climate change, marked by increasing temperatures, changing precipitation patterns, and the rise in extreme weather events, poses a significant threat to both our environment and agricultural systems. The resulting shifts in ecosystems, soil degradation, water scarcity, and biodiversity loss have profound implications for food security and the livelihoods of millions worldwide.

WRATH OF CLIMATE CHANGE

This programme is designed to provide a comprehensive understanding of how climate change impacts the environment and agriculture, and how these two domains are interlinked. Through a series of expert-led lectures and interactive discussions.

We welcome faculty members, researchers, and scholars from all disciplines to participate and enrich the dialogue.

Let us embark on this journey of learning and collaboration to build a sustainable future for our planet and its inhabitants !!
